PROFERTIL informs its neighbors

Ingeniero White, January 5th. The company informs that it has started the maneuvers to take out of service its urea production plant of the complex, in order to carry out maintenance tasks. The start-up process is expected to begin again in the next 48 hours.

During these processes there will be a greater luminosity in the flares and an increase in the usual sound level. The municipal, provincial and national authorities have already been informed of these maneuvers.

The contact channels for any concerns that may arise are the usual ones and the company's social networks (@profertilAgro).
