

PLANT NEWS

PROFERTIL informs the community

Ingeniero White, October 1 – The company informs that it has initiated the procedures to shut down its urea production plant in the complex for maintenance purposes, expecting to commence the start-up process again within the next 72 hours.

Throughout these procedures, there will be increased brightness in the flares and a rise in the usual sound level.

The municipal, provincial, and national authorities have already been informed of these operations. The usual contact channels and the company's social media platforms (@profertilAgro) are available for any concerns that may arise.